
The International British Theatre School LTD

General Terms and Conditions of Camp registration

OVERVIEW

- The International British Theatre school LTD has a zero tolerance to bullying of any kind which includes physical, verbal, emotional, psychological and cyber bullying. Students engaged in this activity may be asked to leave.
- If any student behaves in a manner which puts himself/herself at risk, or contravenes the law of the country in which the camp takes place, or behaves in a manner which, in the view of the The International British Theatre school LTD, seriously undermines the smooth running of the camp, The International British Theatre school LTD reserves the right to withdraw that student from the course. No refund of fees will be made in these circumstances.
- Parents or guardians must give information in writing to the Camp Leader, if a student has any allergy or disability not previously stated. This must be stated in the Online registration process and if is not stated, the child may not be able to take part in the camp due to staff being untrained to effectively care for them in a safe manner.
- Residence/camp facilities: the student will be charged for the replacement of lost company costumes.
- The International British Theatre school LTD will not be responsible for the loss or theft of the student's personal property.

Taking part in The International British Theatre school LTD camps implies express acceptance on behalf of father's, mother's or legal guardians of all the above terms and conditions.

- The camp fees do not cover personal medical insurance.
- The International British Theatre school LTD has public liability insurance and medical assistance from a staff member who has undertaken a first aid course. Full Terms and conditions are available as of January 30th 2019, when the Insurance policies are renewed.
- The International British Theatre school LTD and its Freelancer's ensure the student's well-being and health. It is the responsibility of the Student's relevant Freelancer to ensure safety during work activities and The International British Theatre school LTD's obligation to provide a safe working environment and learning activities to reduce the risk of any hazards, in partnership with its host schools. Students must behave in a manner which The International British Theatre school LTD and it's freelancers implement in order to guarantee their well-being during the camp. Students refusing to comply with the rules of the camp may be asked to leave to ensure The International British Theatre school LTD health and safety standards are met.

- Catering will be provided by the school's on-site caterers. All necessary dietary requirements will be passed on the the third-party catering company. It is the responsibility of the third party catering company to provide healthy and appropriate hot lunches according to the student's Dietary requirements. The International British Theatre school LTD will not be held responsible for any dispute between the student, parents and third party catering company.
- Signing this enrolment form hereby authorises The International British Theatre school LTD to take measures necessary to ensure participants receive medical treatment in cases of accidents or illness, in cases when it has not been possible to contact their parents or legal guardians. Parents or legal guardians shall be responsible for the medical insurance of their child and liable for medical treatment, unless due to negligence or fault of The International British Theatre school LTD or it's relevant Freelancer.
- The International British Theatre school LTD will, from time to time, make use of photographic images of students on our camps in Joy Education LTD promotional material and on our website and social media pages in line with the GDPR act 2018. Should you object to any photograph of your child appearing in any of our material or on the website, please advise the Camp Director in writing accordingly. A copy of The International British Theatre school LTD Data Protection Policy for students is available on request.
